Darkroom Dave Website

I have a new website for technical articles and videos called www.darkroomdave.com. Existing technical notes have moved or been copied from davebutcher.co.uk to darkroomdave.

New Photos

There are lots of new photos on my web galleries. Locations include Zurich, Trier, Glen Coe, Snowdonia, Colorado, Italian Alps and Swiss Alps. I also included a set of aerial photos taken from 1 flight in a light aircraft over Colorado and 2 in helicopters over the Alps.

Coming soon are some new photographs of the Lake District taken on a recent trip with good friend Al. We walked about 85 miles and 15 mountains, including all four 3000 footers, in 8 days. I have new images of Wasdale, Great Gable, Skiddaw and Derwent Water as well as a panorama of the Scafell range.

New Book Project

I have started work on a couple of new books, both landscapes. They will be published later this year or early next year.

One will just be snowy landscapes, including skiing, ski mountaineering and snowshoeing. Lots of the newly scanned film negatives will be included.

The other you'll have to wait and see!
